1.0 Introduction

Canadian Rockies Public Schools provides a continuum of supports and services based on children's needs and consistent with the principles of inclusive education, from the time children enter school in Kindergarten until they graduate. We provide a comprehensive range of programs and services to address the diverse learning needs of our student population. Our team consists of school administration, the school Learning Support teacher, classroom teacher, parents, student (where appropriate), and other school and jurisdiction staff who work towards meeting your child's needs. We also access external service providers, as needed, to better meet the needs of our students. We believe that all students should be educated in the most supportive environment possible. We value the importance of parent involvement and recognize that parent support is essential to student success.

Provincial Focus on Inclusive Education

Principles of Inclusive Education as defined by Alberta Education:

The following six principles are key to achieving Alberta's vision for an inclusive education system. These principles can guide and inform value-based and learner-centred decisions related to policies, practices and actions at every level of Alberta's education system.

1. Anticipate, value and support diversity and learner differences
2. High expectations for all learners
3. Understand learners' strengths and needs
4. Reduce barriers within learning environments
5. Build Capacity
6. Collaborate for success

Professional Practice Standards

Alberta Education, in partnership with the Alberta Teachers Association, College of Alberta School Superintendents and other provincial organizations, have designed new Alberta Education Professional Practice Standards for the Teaching Profession. These Standards include a Teaching Quality Standard, a Leadership Quality Standard and a Superintendent Leadership Quality Standard.

Two significant changes in these new standards are the addition of specific indicators regarding the professional practice expectations for Applying Foundational Knowledge about First Nations, Métis and Inuit and Establishing Inclusive Learning Environments.

Our Vision

To empower students to be their finest, today and tomorrow.

Our Mission

Creating dynamic learning environments that ensure student success.

Our Beliefs

We believe student learning thrives when:

1. The needs of students are recognized and come first.
2. Each student's knowledge, skills, attributes and interests are identified and developed.
3. The learning environment is physically and emotionally safe and secure.
4. Opportunities are provided for challenge, discovery, action and reflection.
5. Each school and the district as a whole function as a Professional Learning Community engaged together in ongoing learning.
6. Parents are well informed and have meaningful opportunities to participate in their child's education.
7. There are healthy connections between the schools and their communities.
8. Relationships between the board, staff, students, and community model mutual respect and support

Our Shared Vision of Instructional Excellence in Teaching describes our collective core beliefs about children, learning, the roles of teachers, and the fundamental actions that bring those beliefs to life. We have expressed these fundamental actions as competencies that reflect the type of educators we are becoming. These competencies are specific, research based, and observable commitments that we are making to our school communities.

4.0 Inclusive Education - CRPS Administrative Procedure 212

Background:

Inclusion is a values based approach and is a way of thinking and acting that demonstrates universal acceptance and belonging for all students. The Division is committed to a high quality of supports for inclusive education programming to support all children and students in attaining the goals of the Ministerial Order on Student Learning (#001/2013). The Division acknowledges that children have a wide range of learning needs and recognizes the necessity of providing programs and support services for students with unique, diverse and complex learning needs. Educating students with diverse needs in regular classrooms in neighbourhood schools shall be the first placement option considered in consultation with students, parents/guardians, school and division staff.

Inclusion in CRPS is characterized by:

- valuing diversity and striving to create environments where all learners feel welcome, feel a sense of belonging and are treated with dignity and respect;
- fostering a growth mindset and high expectations for all learners;
- flexible and responsive environments that can adapt to the changing needs of all learners while embracing differences and celebrating unique strengths;
- multidisciplinary collaborative teams using evidence based instructional practices and strategies to engage all learners and support their optimal achievement and growth.

Procedures

1. The implementation of special education programs and support services will be consistent with the “Standards for Special Education”, Alberta Education, 2004.
2. A continuum of support and services for students, that is consistent with the principles of inclusive education, will be developed by all schools.

Principals will ensure that:

1. The classroom teacher provides a program to meet the learning needs of every student.

Inclusive Education Parent Handbook

2. An Individual Program Plan (IPP) is designed, in consultation with the parent and other professionals where appropriate, for each student identified with a special education code.
3. A Positive Behaviour Support Plan is developed and implemented for each student identified as requiring significant individualized support for behaviour.
4. Regular communication with parents regarding student programs is maintained and documented.
5. Individual Program Plan reviews that include consultation with parents, are convened by the classroom teacher, in collaboration with the Learning Support Teacher, for all students on IPPs, at least three times per year.
6. All schools have a school based collaborative team structure in place to provide consultation, collaboration, planning and problem solving relating to programming for students with diverse needs.
7. Transition processes are in place for all students.
8. A structured transfer of information, written and/or oral, on all students with IPPs takes place each school year, involving both sending and receiving teachers.

6.0 CRPS Continuum of Supports and Services

7.0 Inclusive Education Roles & Responsibilities

Parent

Parents/guardians are important members of their child’s school-based collaborative team. All parents need to be informed of their child’s progress at school and be involved in making decisions that affect their child’s education. School and division personnel are required to ensure that parents have the information needed to make informed decisions. Although parents are not involved in direct implementation within the school setting, parents participate in planning, implementing and evaluating programs and supports by:

- Advocating for their child;
- Providing for their child’s basic needs;
- Ensuring that their child attends school;
- Identifying their child’s needs and communicating them to the teacher;
- Supporting and encouraging their child's learning at home and at school;
- Providing information that is critical for information gathering, screening, identification and referral processes;
- Providing informed consent for referrals and specialized assessment(s);
- Receiving the results of assessments;
- Participating as a team member that uses the results of a holistic assessment procedure to develop an IPP;
- Providing parent/guardian’s perspective as to student strengths and needs;
- Providing informed consent for the content of the IPP and participating in IPP review meetings;
- Following through on IPP goals and strategies in the home and community settings;
- Communicating with the school regarding their concerns, observations and celebrations on a regular basis.

School boards must obtain parents’/guardians’ informed written consent for specialized assessments, referrals, and sharing of information. Informed consent means that the parents/guardians:

Inclusive Education Parent Handbook

- have been provided all information relevant to the activity for which consent is involved;
- understand and agree, in writing, to the activity being carried out;
- understand that the granting of consent is voluntary and may be withdrawn at any time.

Principal

The School Principal is responsible for the instructional leadership of the school. This includes programming for all students within the school. The principal provides leadership in meeting diverse learning needs within the school and assigns responsibilities to teachers, education assistants and support staff.

Administrators adhere to the Education Act - Sept 1, 2019 and Alberta Education Leadership Quality Standards - Sept 1, 2019 that outline School Leaderships expectations with regard to the knowledge and abilities needed to create school environments that are safe, caring, respectful, welcoming and inclusive that “result in quality teaching and optimum learning for all school students.”

As indicated in the Standards for Special Education amended June 2004 document, Administrators of schools are accountable for the delivery and implementation of school-based special education programming and services.

School Principal:

- Ensures an inclusive model of education where every student has access to quality and optimum learning experiences;
- Communicates and promotes Alberta Education and Canadian Rockies School Division expectations, policies, and procedures to school staff;
- Works in collaboration with the Learning Support Teacher to support them in fulfilling the expectations of their role;
- Works through a collaborative process between the school and district to determine the school’s level of need and prioritization for allocation of resources;
- Collaborates with the Learning Support Teacher to assign duties of Educational Assistants. Supervision of Educational Assistants is under the purview of the school principal. The principal may receive input from teachers and LST’s to support the evaluation process;
- Ensures accountability of all staff to adapt and meet the learning needs of all students in responsive and flexible manner;
- As a part of supervision/evaluation, the Principal will hold teachers accountable to the

Inclusive Education Parent Handbook

inclusive elements of the Teaching Quality Standard;

- Works collaboratively with all staff to establish, implement, review and revise school-based processes for supporting the development, implementation and review of Individual Program Plans (IPP's);
- Provides leadership in creating and maintaining an effective response to intervention model within the school;
- Maintains current knowledge of effective practices for meeting diverse learning needs within an inclusive school;
- Works collaboratively with parents and staff to problem solve any concerns around a child's programming and/or supports.

Teacher

Classroom Teachers have the primary responsibility to meet the needs of the range of learners in their classroom. The Classroom Teacher is often the first to observe or perceive a learning difference. The Classroom Teacher works collaboratively with parents and other individuals, both within and outside the school, to develop the most inclusive, appropriate program for all learners in the regular classroom.

Teachers adhere to the Alberta Education Teaching Quality Standard that outlines expectations with regard to the knowledge and abilities needed to create inclusive learning environments “where diversity is embraced and every student is welcomed, cared for, respected and safe.”

The Classroom Teacher:

- Accepts responsibility as the primary educator for all students in the classroom and takes a lead role in the development, implementation and review of programming for all students;
- Creates opportunities for meaningful inclusion of all students in daily activities;
- Implements appropriate universal, targeted and/or specialized strategies to address students' strengths, learning challenges and areas for growth;
- Is aware of and responds to students' emotional and mental health needs;
- Actively participates as a member of the school based collaborative team whose focus is to connect and program for students who are needing support;
- Increases their repertoire of skills and enhances instructional strategies through exploring and introducing innovative ideas, new technologies, and reflective practice to ensure all students have access to meaningful and effective learning opportunities;
- Provides initial classroom-based assessment and develops knowledge of individual student needs, abilities and interests;

Inclusive Education Parent Handbook

- Actively uses knowledge of individual student needs to differentiate instruction to meet the learning needs of every student;
- Reviews student cumulative records and other pertinent student information at the beginning, end and throughout the year, as needed, with a particular emphasis on identifying exceptional needs and strategies that have been successfully used in the past;
- Develops, implements, monitors and evaluates Individual Program Plans (IPPs) in collaboration with the Learning Support Teacher and in consultation with the school-based team;
- Reviews students IPP's at the end of the year with all members of the school collaborative team, including parents and students, when appropriate, to plan for a successful transition;
- Seeks advice and support from professionals with expertise as needed ensuring consistent communication and collaboration with the Learning Support Teacher;
- In collaboration with the Learning Support Teacher and the consent of parents, identifies and refers students for further assessment and/or services as needed;
- Collaborates with the school collaborative team, community services and inter-agencies, as needed, to identify appropriate strategies and resources to meet individual needs;
- Engages in co-planning and co-teaching with the Learning Support Teacher and other specialist teachers when it is mutually agreeable;
- In consultation with the School Administration and the Learning Support Teacher, determines specific classroom duties for the educational assistant within the inclusive classroom;
- In consultation with the Learning Support Teacher and School Administration provides leadership, direction, guidelines, and feedback to the Educational Assistant to inform practice and evaluations;
- Communicates student's progress to the parent or guardian on a regular basis (written reports, report cards, team meetings, phone calls) regarding their child's progress, program and any exceptional needs or supports required.

Learning Support Teacher

The Learning Support Teacher (LST) supports individual teachers and school teams to develop differentiated strategies, to coordinate and to monitor the development of programs for children with diverse learning needs. They are focused on instructional leadership and building teacher capacity. The Learning Support Teacher (LST) plays a central role in collaborating with staff so all students can achieve to the best of their abilities.

Learning Support Teachers adhere to the Alberta Education Teaching Quality Standard that outlines expectations with regard to the knowledge and abilities needed to create inclusive learning environments “where diversity is embraced and every student is welcomed, cared for, respected and safe.”

Inclusive Education Parent Handbook

The Learning Support Teacher will support and/or lead in the following areas:
